

OUR PHILOSOPHY

Our philosophy stems from the Founder's belief that all people are created equal, despite their health challenges. We treat each person with respect, dignity, and strive to create an environment that fosters health, healing and wholeness.

OBJECTIVES

Our goal is to help maintain quality of life in our client's home and environment with minimal assistance. Providing support with aging and disease processes with love, care and empathy, enabling them to have the best quality of life. Our services will be in a collaborative effort to meet our clients' needs serving them with respect and dignity.

For our clients experiencing moderate dementia, wounded vets, amputees loss of B&B control, any physical/emotional challenges, we will dedicate quality time on a one-to-one basis to assess and understand the individual needs and desires of our clients. This will allow us to accommodate their needs with a customized plan in order to fulfill their expectations. Our trained, qualified staff understands the importance of accepting suggestions from clients and loved ones to formulate a care plan that enables them to reach their personal goals.

For our clients experiencing End stage life / Alzheimer, terminal cancers and Parkinson's; our staff's main focus is to provide palliative care for comfort, support of emotional stresses, ensuring that our client's days are free of pain, worry or emotional distress. We provide available devises for comfort using positioning techniques, soothing music, meaningful connections with loved ones, family and friends.

We provide short-term provision care services to families needing a short break, physically, mentally, and emotionally offering day-to-day care for their loved ones.
